Women's Group:

Starting the week of November 12, 2018 – January 28, 2019
Time of day/evening to be determined.

The 10 week Women's Therapy Group has incorporated Brené Brown's Connections Curriculum that focuses on understanding and healing from the universal experience of shame. This is based on her book, I Thought It Was Just Me (but it isn't), and offers context and understanding about how shame is created and maintained through societal expectations, explores how shame drives us, and offers practical solutions to getting out of the web of shame. For more information and to get a flavour for this group, follow this link: <http://brenebrown.com/wp-content/uploads/2013/09/ITIWJMreadingguide.pdf>

Parenting from your Strengths:

Starting the week of January 21, 2019 – February 27, 2019
6:30 to 8:00 p.m.

You have many skills and strengths as a parent, and you've had many successes in parenting. How can you do more of what works to improve your relationship with your child even more? This six week, interactive, strength-based workshop will help you find the tools and attitudes you need for successful parenting! Use a solution-focused approach to figure out what works best for you and your child, and how to take your parenting to the next level. This will improve your life and those of your children by increasing confidence and opportunities for success. Rekindle the joy of parenting!

To register for this group, please contact Shilagh Ostrosser at shilagh.ostrosser@theyorkcentre.ca

TRIPLE P: Positive Parenting Programs:

Triple P is an evidence-based approach to support parents of children who have, or are at risk of, developing behaviour problems. It is a preventatively oriented program which aims to promote positive, caring relationships between parents and their children, and to help parents develop effective management strategies for dealing with a variety of childhood behaviour problems and common development issues.

The York Centre offers Triple P group programs to the community in three formats: Triple P for Parents of Children 0 to 6 (offered through Zero to 6 Services); Triple P for Parents of Children 0 to 12; Transitions Triple P; and Triple P for Parents and Teens. Groups will be offered throughout the year.

Hold Me Tight - Let Me Go:

May 27, 2019 – June 10, 2019; Day of week to be determined.

This workshop for families and teens has been created by Nancy and Paul Aikin, who have used Sue Johnson's concepts of love from Emotionally Focused Therapy and the Internationally run Hold Me Tight group for couples, and modified it to fit the attachment systems present in family life. This program is designed to strengthen the bonds between teens and their parents. With the help of exercises, structured parent/teen conversations, and group support, families will grow their appreciation of how to rely on each other during this important transitional stage of family life. There is one session for parents only, followed by 2 sessions for parents and teens.

Please contact Zoe Goodman at (905) 737-8927 ext. 230 for more information and to register

Cool Dads:

TBD

6:30 to 8:30 p.m.
